

Tony vs THE MONSTER

There's no such thing as monsters!
Tony knows this is true
Why, Tony is too brave to be scared
By anything that said boo

And though monsters really aren't real,
Tony is not afraid to admit
There was something in this room
He didn't like – not one little bit

In a flash, Tony knew what to do
Monsters hate light – he had his clue.
If he could just switch that switch over there
The monster will run! Boo – hoo - hoo!

So Tony did it –
He switched on the light
And what he saw made him laugh
And giggle with delight

It was just a mosquito
And it was funny and small
Of course, Tony always knew
There were never monsters at all

It was six feet tall, maybe more
And had eyes big as cats
It had fangs and huge claws
And looked meaner than ten rats

Tony peeked out from under his bed
And saw a shadow bigger than big ever was!
Maybe monsters aren't real, Tony thought
But it made an awfully loud BUZZ BUZZ
